

CLEMENT MWANGI

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

About me

I am a skilled and versatile professional with a passion for technology and innovation. With a solid foundation in Full Stack Development, I bring over 3 years of experience in Front-End Development, proficient in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. My expertise extends to Back-End technologies, including 3 years of hands-on experience with Python, Node.js, and Express.js. I have a strong background in Database Management, having worked with SQL, PostgreSQL, and MySQL for 2 years. Additionally, my proficiency in Version Control spans 2 years, ensuring efficient collaboration and project management. What sets me apart is my commitment to continuous learning and adaptability. I am fluent in English, enabling effective communication and collaboration in multicultural environments. Whether it's crafting seamless user interfaces or optimizing database performance, I bring a holistic approach to every project.

bringing out the best in every project as we evolve in the dynamic world of software development.
